The building blocks of FREEDOM: It's inside you now!

Freedom. It's a powerful word. Enough to move you, to fill you, to run through your veins. Right now. We live our lives never really seeing the blood as it moves through us but we're sure it's red. What other colour could it be? But freedom, you can't paint it. Yet, most of us are sure that this word Freedom makes us tick, makes us move, makes us reach. Somewhere. We read it now, again. We juggle all the time with its meaning, for us, for others. We juggle F E D E R M O and the letters fall down. We have to come together to put the word back together again.

Sharing our ideas and perspective is itself a free act, if only because it makes us lunge towards the blurry murkiness of the ticking inside us. We give freedom form by giving it words, images and gestures; on Saturday at Occupy Free School, amongst the breeze and buses, we released those words into the air. We guessed what Freedom meant for us.

R E F D O M E

Freedom corresponds to the individual and the society. For us, it's determined by the opportunities we have to colour our experiences and to choose, for example, to take the path less travelled or to take the normal one (making it fit for the travel of others). Freedom means a lot more personally for each of you, there's a lot of blood in our bodies, but something we find in common is the capacity for our personal independence to restrict or oppress others. The need to be together at some point in time brings us into a tricky transfusion and at points, things get messy. Society, with its traditions, borders and mediated communication, only enlarges the mess until there's only one way to keep things clean: to put everyone in a hygienic robe and to keep things controlled and manipulated.

E D M R F O E

Participants at the workshop believed Freedom was neither ours nor society's to keep. The two entities came together in our agreement that we had a responsibility to share our social spaces and resources and that this responsibility was better upheld when it came from within, through our veins, when it wasn't something fed into us from some other power.

F R E M O E D

Freedom happens a lot before we act to change the world. We see the world in a particular way, and in every moment, we make choices to give that world a particular face. But just as we assume and perceive and uphold our beliefs and choices, so do those external factors play with us. The lights and noises affect our judgement, even at Martin Place, and many of us have had to fight the authorities just because a few signs have been laid in concrete. How many signs are there around the city? Around you right now? Part of the act of becoming free seems to be to become aware of this very relationship, between you, your blood, your ideas, and those ideas, the blood coursing outside you, in others, in a city, a country, where many things tell you what to say.

R E E D O M F

Awareness doesn't change the world, completely. But nobody ever argued that becoming aware in itself was enough. Action has always been there. It's just implied. We need more than quiet souls. But we need to be aware that we are living, with blood running inside us, right now. To feel it is to know that we have the right and the choice, to give it form, and colour and reach. Somewhere.

Everybody left with their own conclusions about what had to happen once you became aware. We're all responsible for making ourselves freer day to day. Does that mean we occupy at Martin Place or meditate inside ourselves? Or do we dance down Pitt street? Or, perhaps, we build giant letters out of blocks and leave them somewhere in the city. Letters to be played with. Letters to spell the word F R E E D O M.

RALLY: International Day of Solidarity with Honduras

Saturday 23 June 2012 @ 11am

Iberoamerican Plaza, Central Station, near Devonshire Street (Sydney, Australia)

Denounce the coup in Honduras!

End the Political Killings, Human Rights Violations and Environmental Exploitation!

Join us in solidarity with the People of Honduras against the continued political killings, human rights violations and environmental exploitation that has been driven by an internationally coordinated military coup since 28th June 2009.

Outraged by these ongoing abuses, friends from many parts of the world converged in Bajo Aguan, Honduras in February this year to declare that 28 June 2012 would be the International Day of Solidarity With Honduras. In Bajo Aguan alone there have been more than 50 farmers assassinated for their resistance against the coup in their fight for land rights.

Honduras is now seen as the 'murder capital' of the world, the persecution of the Honduran people is not slowing down. In the past month there has been a surge in the frequency of political killings.

This is an invitation to participate as a community in solidarity with Hondurans resisting the continuation of a brutal internationally coordinated military coup and honour those resisters that have been murdered in the past month among the many that have gone before them:

WE REMEMBER:

1 May 2012: A young Lenca Indigenous man, Santos Rodríguez, was killed in his home.

2 May 2012: Singer and unionist of Sitraunah (autonomous uni workers' union) Rigoberto Matute, was run over and killed.

3 May 2012: University lecturer, belongs to Sitraunah, Miguel Barahona, assassinated by hitmen.

5 May 2012: LGBTI human rights activist, journalist and aspiring candidate, Erick Martínez (32), went missing on 5 May and was found dead on a highway kerb 2 days later.

8 May 2012: Community leader of Choloma Cortés, and sympathiser of the resistance party, Edilberto Solano, was assassinated by hitmen on a motorcycle.

11 May 2012: Massacre of indigenous Miskito people by gunfire from U.S. State Department – titled helicopters that the US government confirms carried U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) agents and security contractors. Four were killed, including two pregnant women, a 14-year-old boy and a 21-year-old man, while at least four more were seriously injured.

16 May 2012: An organised farmer, Juan José Peralta (60), of the Marañones MUCA settlement was riddled with bullets by palm oil giant Facussé's (and known oligarchy) security guards.

18 May 2012: An organised farmer, José Del Cid (41), also of the Marañones MUCA settlement was shot and killed by unidentified persons.

20 May 2012: Resistance activist who was involved with leftist parties, 'el Pollito' (dear little chicken) Jesús Pineda (55) was shot by unknown hitmen

31 May 2012: An organised farmer Erick Rivera (40), previously of Marañones, was shot dead by unknown persons despite being with a bodyguard.

Denounce the coup in Honduras!

End the Political Killings, Human Rights Violations and Environmental Exploitation!

LIZARD'S REVENGE

SHUT DOWN
ROXBY

Roxby Downs

Recently BHP Billiton announced it's proposal to expand the Olympic Dam Uranium Mine in South Australia to become the largest open pit and uranium mine in the world. Traditional owner Uncle Kevin Buzzacott and activist/musician Izzy Brown are organizing the Lizard's Revenge. On 14th July people are gathering for three days to shut down Roxby Downs which is irreversibly poisoning the land and water, contaminating its workers and spreading its deadly export to the Fukushima of tomorrow and to war zones in the form of Depleted Uranium. As well as blockading the Lizard Festival will include solar and wind powered cinema, Theatre, Cabaret and Art installations, and over 20 musical acts.

Interview with Izzy Brown about the Roxby Down expansion and Lizard's Revenge <http://youtu.be/Q9cnVy4QekY>

Australia is on the edge of a repeat of the 2008-9 financial crisis. Individuals are bearing the brunt of the crisis with jumps in the cost of living against reduced job security. Financial risk is shifting from the state to individuals as services - health, education and retirement are increasingly privatized. Over 40% of Australians are in 'non'-standard' employment. The 'market' has failed to provide security as another crisis looms. People are being squeezed. While the 2008-09 stimulus package helped Australia ride out the GFC, no deep changes were made. But we're not going back to "business as usual"...

A BETTER WORLD IS POSSIBLE!

Australian Prime Minister Julia Gillard's criminal history

And her hypocrisy with WikiLeaks and Julian Assange.

Julia Gillard had criminal allegations made against her in 1995 when she was accused of helping her boyfriend steal over $1,000,000 from the Australian Workers Union (AWU) and helping him spend the money on such things as her personal home renovations and dresses.

Julia Gillard has never denied helping him rip off the $1,000,000 plus dollars, what she has done is denied doing it knowingly. Her part was helping set up an account called the "AWU Members Welfare Association No 1 Account" and possibly other accounts that the money was laundered through when she was a lawyer working for Slater and Gordon who were the solicitors representing the Australian Workers Union.

The allegations against Julia Gillard were initially raised in the Victorian Parliament in 1995.

In an interview with Glenn Milne of the Sydney Sunday Telegraph in 2007 Julia Gillard said:

"These matters happened between 12 and 15 years ago," Ms Gillard told The Sunday Telegraph. "I was young and naive.

"I was in a relationship, which I ended, and obviously it was all very distressing. I am by no means the first person to find out that someone close turns out to be different to what you had believed them to be. It's an ordinary human error.

"I was obviously hurt when I was later falsely accused publicly of wrong-doing. I didn't do anything wrong and to have false allegations in the media was distressing."

The article also says "But she has strenuously denied ever knowing what the association's bank accounts were used for." (Click here to read the full article) <http://www.dailytelegraph.com.au/news/sydney-news/gillards-stunning-confession/story-e6freuzi-1111114848862>

I will dissect Julia Gillard's above comments later in the post because they beggar belief and raise more questions than they answer. But the part that would stand out at this point for anyone who has been following the Julian Assange and WikiLeaks matters over the past 10 months or so is the part where Julia Gillard whinges "to have false allegations in the media was distressing" which is exactly what Julia Gillard did to WikiLeaks and Julian Assange at the end of last year when she falsely said their actions were illegal.

In this post I will cover:

1. Julia Gillard's part in ripping off the AWU for over $1,000,000
2. Julia Gillard's hypocrisy in relation to her allegations of illegal conduct by Julian Assange and WikiLeaks.
3. Prima Facie Case to have Julia Gillard charged for breaching section 41 of the 1914 Crimes Act "Conspiracy to bring false accusation” and section 137 of the 1995 Criminal Code “False or misleading information or documents”.

To appreciate how Julia Gillard’s answers she gave in the 2007 interview beggar belief it is important to have some knowledge of what happened when she helped Bruce Wilson steal from the AWU. A brief outline is below.

The way the scam worked is best set out in another article by Glenn Milne where it starts off:

“THE con used by Julia Gillard’s former lover to cream off possibly more than $1 million was simple and backed by standover tactics.

As union secretary, Bruce Morton Wilson would go on to construction sites and tell bosses they “needed” an industrial agreement which he would negotiate.

But there was a price – they would have to purchase hundreds of AWU membership tickets in exchange for the industrial peace guaranteed by the “agreement”.

However, when the employers made out the cheques – sometimes for more than $50,000 at a time – the money for memberships that never existed would go into phony AWU accounts that actually belonged to Wilson.” (Click here to read the full article) <http://www.adelaidenow.com.au/news/how-scam-worked/story-e6freo8c-1111114849360>

The scam seems to have first started in Western Australia when Bruce Wilson was State Secretary of the AWU and he had already set up two bogus accounts to funnel the money through. He later moved to Victoria to become State Secretary for both Victoria and Western Australia.

By this time Julia Gillard and Bruce Wilson were in a sexual relationship and Julia Gillard should have stopped representing the AWU as there was a clear conflict of interest.

Bruce Wilson had Julia Gillard set up the account named “AWU Members Welfare Association No 1 Account”.

The AWU management claimed they knew nothing about the accounts and when they found out the joint national secretary Ian Cambridge put a freeze on the accounts. Somehow money kept on going in and out of the accounts.

Some of the money was also used to buy a house and Ian Cambridge put a caveat on the house so it could not be sold. Again the house was sold and the money disappeared.

From here we will go to the transcript from the Victorian Government Hansard where it says on the 12th of October 1995:

Mr GUDE (Minister for Industry and Employment)

“I understand the AWU is still receiving bills for strange items ordered by Mr Wilson. All attempts thus far to find him have come to nothing. What did Mr Wilson do when he found out that his actions had been discovered? The first thing he did was to seek legal advice from the union’s solicitors, none other than Slater and Gordon. From whom did he receive that advice? One Julia Gillard.

I am informed that Ms Gillard is no longer with Slater and Gordon due to commitments as an ALP Senate candidate. That may not be the only reason she is no longer working at Slater and Gordon.”

“Mr Gude — Consistent with the provisions of the legislation I am informed that the first thing Ms Gillard did, when asked what she would be doing and why she was getting out of Slater and Gordon, was to pay back moneys to the AWU for work” (Click here to read the rest) <http://tex.parliament.vic.gov.au/bin/texhtmlt?form=jVicHansard.dumpall&db=hansard91&dodraft=0&speech=25045&activity=Questions+without+Notice&title=AWU+union+of>

Julia Gillard is alleged to have ripped off $57,500 for herself. Of which $17,500 was spent on clothing at Town Mode, which was a women's fashion house in Melbourne. Mr Cambridge has given evidence about the likely proceeds of this. And $40,000 was spent on renovations to her house in Melbourne. This shows up in the Victorian Parliament Hansard on the 28th February 2001 and the 2nd May 2001. <http://tex.parliament.vic.gov.au/bin/texhtmlt?form=jVicHansard.dumpall&db=hansard91&dodraft=0&house=ASSEMBLY&speech=10321&activity=Grievances&title=AWU:+funds&date1=28&date2=February&date3=2001&query=true%0A%09and+%28+data+contains+%27julia%27%0A%09and+data+contains+%27gillard%27+%29%0A>

In January 1996 "Mr Cambridge wrote to the then Federal Minister for Industrial Relations, Mr Laurie Brereton, seeking a royal commission into the AWU – just as the Prime Minister, Mr Paul Keating, called an election." (Click here to read the full article) <http://www.fortunetellers.com.au/fortunetellers-articles/1996/7/30/ruptured-union-seeks-enemy-within/>

Not long after Robert F. Smith, branch secretary at the AWU wrote a letter to Steve Harrison who along with Ian Cambridge was joint national secretary of the AWU.

The letter is in the Victorian Government Hansard and starts off:

Dear Steve,

Further to our telephone discussion this morning, I propose the following resolution to be put to national executive next month.

As we have discussed, you know as well as I do that if Cambridge is not stopped we are all history. I have spoken to Bill Kelty and Jennie George, and they are supportive of this course of action. Both you and I can work the phones before the national executive meeting to make sure we have the numbers before this motion is put. I have already spoken to a number of national executive and they are very nervous to say the least. Please ring when you have considered my proposal.

The Hansard goes on to say: By the way, there was neither a judicial inquiry nor a royal commission. Cambridge was appointed to the New South Wales Industrial Relations Court. I call for a full, open judicial inquiry. The other addressees on the letter were Bill Shorten, Terry Muscat, Graham Ray and Frank Leo. (Click here to read the full letter). <http://tex.parliament.vic.gov.au/bin/texhtmlt?form=jVicHansard.dumpall&db=hansard91&dodraft=0&speech=11696&activity=Members+Statements&title=AWU:+funds&date1=16&date2=May&date3=2001&query=true%0A%09and+%28+data+contains+%27ian%27%0A%09and+data+contains+%27cambridge%27+%29%0A>

The above shows Julia Gillard being party to fraud, blackmail, money laundering and extortion etc. She claims to have not done it knowingly.

Now back to the 2007 Julia Gillard interview with Glenn Milne.

Julia Gillard "strenuously denied ever knowing what the association's bank accounts were used for". For Julia Gillard to say that is a breach of lawyer-client confidentiality, but since she is prepared to say that she should also be prepared to answer other questions on the matter. It also is not believable as the first thing a lawyer would do when a client wants to set up a new association is ask what it going to be used for so the lawyer makes sure they are giving the right advice and setting it up correctly. Is Julia Gillard saying she was also derelict in her duty and did not ask.

Julia Gillard said: "These matters happened between 12 and 15 years ago," "I was young and naive." Well Julia Gillard was a partner at the law firm Slater and Gordon and in her mid thirties. Slater and Gordon are not in the habit of appointing young and naive people as partners and being in her mid thirties hardly made her young.

Julia Gillard said: "I was in a relationship, which I ended, and obviously it was all very distressing. I am by no means the first person to find out that someone close turns out to be different to what you had believed them to be. It's an ordinary human error." This is crap. Once Julia Gillard started having a sexual relationship with Bruce Wilson she should have stopped representing the AWU as they were the client not Bruce Wilson. It is a huge conflict of interest.

Julia Gillard said "I was obviously hurt when I was later falsely accused publicly of wrongdoing. I didn't do anything wrong and to have false allegations in the media was distressing." Well Julia Gillard was more than happy to falsely accuse Julian Assange and WikiLeaks of breaking Australian laws. It does not get much more hypocritical than that.

Both Bill Shorten and Jennie George who are mentioned above, and went on to become Federal Politicians, helped Julia Gillard become Prime Minister while they both were well aware of her history and helped cover it up.

Ian Cambridge as mentioned above became a Commissioner at the NSW Industrial Relations Commission in 1997. In 2009 Julia Gillard as Minister for Industrial Relations personally appointed Ian Cambridge as dual appointee to Fair Work Australia. I find this disturbing. While it could be argued that other Commissioners of the NSW Industrial Relations Commission were also given dual appointments at the same time they had not previously called for a Royal Commission into criminal conduct by Julia Gillard and her boyfriend Bruce Wilson.

Julia Gillard should never have appointed him and if Ian Cambridge had any self-respect he should not have accepted the position. It could be construed by some that Ian Cambridge has taken a bribe to keep his mouth shut about her criminal past.

I also do notice that the Australian Mines and Metals Association has documented Julia Gillard stacking the bench at Fair Work Australia with her union mates. (Click here to read). http://www.amma.org.au/index.php?option=com_content&view=article&id=345:latest-appointment-to-fair-work-australia-swells-union-ranks-within-the-tribunal&catid=39:media-releases&Itemid=118

WikiLeaks and Julian Assange

On December 2, 2010 Julia Gillard said in relation to the United States diplomatic cables leak (Cablegate): "I absolutely condemn the placement of this information on the WikiLeaks website – it's a grossly irresponsible thing to do and an illegal thing to do." Yet when she was asked what laws had been breached she could not name any. Even so she still referred the matter to the Australian Federal Police for investigation. The Australian Attorney General Robert McClelland supported Julia Gillard although he was not as stupid to go as far and he said that they had likely broken the law "The unauthorised obtaining of the information may well be an offence” but he also failed to name what laws had been breached.

When Julia Gillard and Robert McClelland referred the complaint to the Australian Federal Police it should have been fully documented. They should tender those documents to parliament or the media so we can see what laws they believed that WikiLeaks and Julian Assange breached.

If they can not name the particular law or laws and what evidence they had that supported the crime then there is a very powerful prima facie case to have both Julia Gillard and Robert McClelland charged for conspiring to have someone falsely charged and making a false complaint to the police.

These are covered by section 41 of the 1914 Crimes Act and section 137.1 of the 1995 Criminal Code which are set out below. Even though WikiLeaks and Julian Assange were not charged section 41 of the 1914 crimes act still applies as even if “charging a person falsely pursuant to the agreement is impossible” they can still be found guilty which is covered by section 41(3)(a).

Crimes Act 1914

41 Conspiracy to bring false accusation

(1) Any person who conspires with another to charge any person falsely or cause any person to be falsely charged with any offence against the law of the Commonwealth or of a Territory, shall be guilty of an indictable offence.

Penalty: Imprisonment for 10 years.

(3) A person may be found guilty of an offence against subsection (1) even if:

(a) charging a person falsely pursuant to the agreement is impossible; or

Criminal Code Act 1995

Division 137—False or misleading information or documents

137.1 False or misleading information

(1) A person is guilty of an offence if:

(a) the person gives information to another person; and

(b) the person does so knowing that the information:

(i) is false or misleading; or

(ii) omits any matter or thing without which the information is misleading; and

(c) any of the following subparagraphs applies:

(i) the information is given to a Commonwealth entity;

(ii) the information is given to a person who is exercising powers or performing functions under, or in connection with, a law of the Commonwealth;

Penalty: Imprisonment for 12 months.

Julian Assange was quoted as saying that the Australian public should consider charging Julia Gillard with treason when he was on the ABC Q&A program on the 14th of March 2011. Whether that could be justified I do not know. But certainly having Julia Gillard and Robert McClelland charged with the two laws I mention above could be sustained.

It is worth noting that section 13 of the 1914 Crimes Act empowers every Australian to institute criminal proceeding so there is no need to wait for the police who of course would never do it.

When Robert McClelland was asked about the Federal Police investigation on the 10th December 2010 he alluded that the police investigation could take a long time and he referred to the Godwin Grech investigation as an example. This is fairly standard for the Australian Federal Police to drag it out for as long as possible than quietly sweep it under the carpet when the media attention has gone.

But the Federal Police announced only one week later that WikiLeaks and Julian Assange had breached no Australian laws. Lo and behold that was the same day Dr Muhamed Haneef flew into town.

Who is Dr Haneef and what was he doing in Australia? He was here for a mediation meeting with the Federal Government on the 20th of December 2010 to settle a multi million dollar claim for wrongful arrest and detention in 2007.

This is what it says on Wikipedia: “During the 2008 inquiry into the Haneef affair, documents have revealed that former Prime Minister John Howard became involved in the case within 48 hours of Haneef’s arrest. Lawyers in the case have suggested that the early involvement of the Prime Minister mean that John Howard colluded with Immigration Minister Kevin Andrews to politicise the issue.” (Click here to read more) http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Muhamed_Haneef “Police officers Neil Thompson and Adam Simms who interrogated Haneef refused to charge him.” Adam Simms is a Queensland Police Officer and Neil Thompson is a Federal Police Officer.

So they had a senior Federal Police Officer, Commander Ramzi Jabbour, come over the top and charge him which is basically unheard of that leads one to believe it was being driven from the top. This is what it says on Wikipedia: “The Manager Counter Terrorism Domestic, Commander Ramzi Jabbour, had lost objectivity and was “unable to see that the evidence he regarded as highly incriminating in fact amounted to very little”.

Given the Dr Haneef scandal Julia Gillard should have known better than to level the claims she did against Julian Assange and WikiLeaks and then refer it to the Federal Police. It is worth noting that she has never apologised to Julian Assange or WikiLeaks for making false allegations against them.

In summary Julia Gillard is not up to being Prime Minister of Australia. Julia Gillard is a qualified lawyer and you only have to read the above to realise that she is not much of a lawyer let alone a Prime Minister.

It would be greatly appreciated if you took a minute and use the email and social network links below and let as many people as you can know about this post. It is certainly in the public interest to do so given the posts content.

This post is not about being anti-Labor and pro-Liberal it is about exposing corruption. If you are sick of corruption in the Government make sure you like this post on your Facebook page and use Twitter to tweet it and email your friends the link and ask them to do the same. We only need a few thousand people to do this and the post will likely go viral then we might start to see some real change in the Government.

Update 5/9/11: Julia Gillard over the last week has been threatening the Australian media to not report on her past which I raise above. I have done a follow-up post which is at: “Has Julia Gillard blackmailed the Media to cover-up her corrupt past? The Fairfax Media and News Corp scandal.” <http://kangaroocourtsofaustralia.com/2011/09/05/has-julia-gillard-blackmailed-the-media-to-cover-up-her-corrupt-past-the-fairfax-media-and-news-corp-scandal/>

And make sure you follow this site by email which is on the top right of this page and about once a week you will get an email when there is a new post/story on this site. Thank you for your support.

Lizard's Revenge Call to Action

Hosted by the DLF - Desert Liberation Front in response to the governments decision to expand Olympic Dam mine.

... Sleeping underneath the ground there is an old lizard, Kalta the sleepy lizard. The lizard ain't so sleepy anymore.

BHP is mining right into that Lizards body. The government has just approved an expansion of the Olympic Dam uranium mine, making it the biggest uranium mine in the world.

Kalta is angry and wants revenge. Arabana elder Kevin Buzzacott is calling the people of the world to help the lizard shut down the mine. He is calling for people to come and heal the land in the name of peace and justice for the next 10,000 generations to come.

The land is being irreversibly poisoned in and around Roxby Downs by the tailings dam causing dust and ground water contamination, and contamination of its workers.

The uranium is taken all over the world and used to kill the land and all its creatures. It's destroying lives not only in Fukushima, with the reactor meltdown, but in the depleted uranium shells that children play with in the streets of Iraq and Kosovo.

With the governments numerous attempts to put a nuclear waste dump at Muckaty in the Northern Territory there is a danger that radioactive waste will be brought back, opening Australia up to accepting nuclear waste from all over the world. Lets stop the deadly cycle where it starts.

The land the lizard and the creatures of this earth are summoning everybody who gives a shit to the gates of Roxby Downs on the 14th of July 2012 for The Lizards Revenge - This is an open invitation to all people and a special call out to artists, musicians and activist community groups and media to get involved in the creation of this autonomous zone for the peace and healing of this land.

Party in a Dangerous Planet with Theatre, Cabaret and Art installations. Over 20 musical acts. Solar Powered sound system extravaganza and wind powered cinema. More to be announced..

Road Trip for Change - Step Out(back) and Learn from Country

Date and Time: Tue, 03/07/2012 - 9:00am - Fri, 20/07/2012 - 9:00pm

Location: Bendigo Students of Sustainability Conference and Roxby Downs for the Lizards Revenge Music/Art Festival

Website: www.roadtripforchange.org

If you're keen for something different these winter holidays then come on an inspirational journey with us like-minded crew! We're heading out-back to learn about this amazing place we live in and sharpen our skills to stand up for country.

In July the South Australian Student Environment Network will be running a series of epic road trips that will take you on a journey of learning from Adelaide to Australia's biggest grass roots Environment Conference: Students of Sustainability (SoS), then via the great SA outback to Roxby Downs for the Lizards Revenge Music/Art festival.

On the way to Roxby Downs we will visit Pt Lowly on the Eyre Peninsula, the breeding place for the Australian Giant Cuttlefish and the site for the proposed BHP desalination plant. We will then head north via the Flinders Ranges to Arabunna Country where we have been invited by elder Uncle Kevin Buzzacott to see for ourselves site of the Olympic Dam mining expansion and to attend the Lizard's Revenge Festival.

18 days is a long time, so we have broken the trip into parts for those of you who can't come for the whole thing.....so you have a choice to attend:

- The entire trip: 3rd to 20th July

OR

- SoS conference: Adelaide to Bendigo and back to Adelaide 3rd to 9th July.

event: <https://www.facebook.com/events/187397901361634/>

OR

- Bendigo to Lizards Revenge via Outback and back to Adelaide 8th to 20th July

(ideal for Eastern states participants)

OR

- Adelaide to Lizards Revenge via Outback and back to Adelaide 10th to 20th July.

event: <https://www.facebook.com/events/224524544273924/>

The cost of the trip will depend on how many people come, the transport we will need and which part you come for. Considering that the whole trip is 17 days, the cost is estimated to be at about $400-$500 per person, including food, accommodation (camping) and SoS fee. BUT we will likely get grants and subsidies from the Universities so the cost to you will be much less than that :) Plus... We'll be doing a bunch of fundraising leading up to the Road Trip to make it more affordable for everyone. (Holla if you can help us out with fundraising!)

If you click "attending" it is also important that you secure your place on the trip by paying a $50 deposit and also officially register here: <https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/viewform?formkey=dDIONFdwQWxESEpwX0t1NEIVS1VHcWc6MQ> so that we can accurately know how much transport we will need

Any questions chuck us an email at: sasen@asen.org.au
